

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                |    |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Preface                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 7  |
| Giuseppe Giliberti                                                                                                                                                                                      |    |
| Introduction                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 15 |
| 1. Historical Pathways in the Codification of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                     | 19 |
| 1.1 From the Restricted Notion of Citizenship as Expressedin the Declaration des Droits de l'Homme et du Citoyento the Universal Attribution of Rights of the UniversalDeclaration of Human Rights | 22 |
| 1.2 The New International Perspective Envisaged bythe Universal Declaration of Human Rights                                                                                                                | 25 |
| 2. The Concept of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                                                 | 31 |
| 2.1 The Logic of the Structure of Rights and its Applicationto the Typologies of Social Interactions                                                                                                       | 32 |
| 2.2 The Special Status of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                                         | 36 |
| 2.2.1 Right Holders of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                                            | 39 |
| 2.3 The Concept of "Human Dignity" and the Basic FormalProperties of Human Rights                                                                                                                          | 42 |
| 2.4 Categories of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                                                 | 45 |
| 2.5 On the Universal Applicability of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                             | 48 |
| 2.6 The Justiciability of Human Rights, a Theoretical Problem                                                                                                                                                  | 51 |
| 3. The UN and the ECHR Systems of Protection of Human Rights                                                                                                                                                   | 55 |
| 3.1 Enforcement of Human Rights and National Courts                                                                                                                                                            | 55 |
| 3.2 The Accommodation of National Interests: an Overviewof National Courts' Enforcement of InternationalHuman Rights Law                                                                               | 55 |
| 3.2.1 Interpreting National Constitutions to Determinethe Status of International Law in the NationalLegal System                                                                                      | 56 |
| 3.2.2 The Determination and Interpretation ofInternational Provisions on Human Rights                                                                                                                      | 57 |
| 3.3 The Protection of Human Rights under the United Nations                                                                                                                                                    | 59 |
| 3.3.1 The International Covenant on Civil and PoliticalRights 1966                                                                                                                                         | 60 |

|                                                                                                                                   |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 3.4 The European Convention on Human Rights                                                                                       | 62  |
| 3.4.1 The European Convention on Human Rights asDirectly Applicable International Law Superiorto the Domestic Legal Order | 63  |
| 3.4.2 The European Convention on Human Rightsas Part of the Constitution                                                      | 63  |
| 3.4.3 The European Convention on Human Rights asDirectly Applicable Law Superior to Domestic Legislation                      | 64  |
| 3.4.4 The European Convention on Human Rightswith the Rank of Statutory Law                                                   | 65  |
| 3.5 Specific Features of the European Convention on HumanRights in Some States                                                | 66  |
| 3.5.1 Germany                                                                                                                     | 66  |
| 3.5.2 England                                                                                                                     | 68  |
| 3.5.3 Italy                                                                                                                       | 68  |
| 3.6 Enforcement of the European Convention on Human Rights                                                                        | 70  |
| 3.6.1 Cessation of a Continuing Violation                                                                                         | 71  |
| 3.6.2 Revision of Domestic Legislation and AdministrativePractices                                                            | 73  |
| 3.6.3 The Payment of Just Satisfaction Awarded bythe European Court on Human Rights                                           | 74  |
| 3.6.4 The Role of Domestic Courts                                                                                                 | 74  |
| 3.7 Human Rights in the European Union and theirEnforcement at the European Court of Justice                                  | 76  |
| 4. The European Charter of Fundamental Rights                                                                                     | 83  |
| 4.1 People or Peoples of Europe?                                                                                                  | 84  |
| 4.2 Protection of Human Rights in the European Unionbefore the European Charter of Fundamental Rights                         | 87  |
| 4.3 The Content of the European Charter of Fundamental Rights                                                                     | 90  |
| 5. Human Rights in the Euro-Mediterranean Area                                                                                    | 103 |
| 5.1 Islam, Democracy and Human Rights                                                                                             | 108 |
| 5.2 Dogma and History: Shari'ah and Islamic Politics                                                                       | 109 |
| 5.3 Democracy and Shari'ah                                                                                                 | 112 |
| 5.4 Islam and Human Rights                                                                                                        | 117 |
| 6. Indications for an EU Internal and ExternalPolitics of Human Rights                                                        | 127 |
| 6.1 Democratic Peace versus Democratic War                                                                                 | 127 |
| 6.2 Population Politics and Human Development                                                                                     | 137 |
| References                                                                                                                        | 147 |